

(1) Norfolk's General employees are not a stated priority of the current City Council. If you are elected/reelected would you make Norfolk General employees one of the stated priorities? (For example, Schools, Public Safety and Residents are the stated priorities; General employees would be happy to make the list, even if we are #4.)

yes.

(2) General employees would like to see general wage increases and steps administered equally across the board to all public employees. For example, if the teachers get a raise, other Public employees should also be given the same raise, and vice versa. Do you feel that salary and benefits should be administered on a level playing field, equally for all public employees (General employees, Public Safety and Teachers)?

yes

(3) Norfolk retiree paid medical premiums are the lowest, by far, of all the seven cities in our area (see attached chart based on FY09 figures). If elected/re-elected, would you support increasing the city-paid amount of retiree medical premiums to get them at least in the ballpark of the other seven cities in our market?

I would, however, economic times have proven a tough reality for all in the city. I would work tirelessly to make sure Norfolk increased city-paid amount of retiree medical premiums.

(4) Norfolk retirees do not get automatic cost of living raises, as do the retirees that are in the Virginia Retirement System (VRS). Increases for retirees are ad hoc, and have not kept up with counterparts in other cities, allowing pensions to diminish (see attached chart prepared by Norfolk's Human Resources and Finance departments and presented to our current City Council in August of 2008). If elected or re-elected, would you commit to giving Norfolk retirees ad hoc increases that are comparable to what is given by VRS?

Retirees should receive automatic cost of living raises

(5) The City of Norfolk's employee union, Coalition Of Public Employees (COPE), Local 200 was chartered in October of 2008. It's parent organization is the National Association of Government Employees (NAGE). Attached are our Vision, Mission, Motto and Goals. The City of Norfolk currently does not recognize our union, while they do recognize the unions of the teachers, police and firefighters. Do you feel the Norfolk General employees should have the same right to belong to a union (as outlined in the Right to Work law) and be recognized by the City as the other public employee unions?

Employees should always have a right to organize in my mind.

(6) If elected or reelected to Norfolk's City Council, would you commit to putting people above new projects. Employees are asked to tighten our belts, do more with less, sacrifice because we are in tough times. Yet, we see millions and millions of new spending on nice-to-haves, not needs or the fulfillment of contracts. While we are proud of Norfolk's growth, it should not be at the expense of the employees that make it all work. If you are elected or reelected to Norfolk City Council, will you commit to not growing the City with new, expensive projects, unless you can keep a commitment to employees to not let their wages lose purchasing power and their lack of benefits cause them to have to work well past retirement age?

I have always said in this campaign that a city is not bricks and mortar but the people who work in her and her citizens
